ABOUT THE CRSP U.S. MICRO CAP INDEX

The CRSP U.S. Micro Cap Index includes the smallest U.S. companies, with a target of including the bottom 2 percent of investable market capitalization. The index includes securities traded on NYSE, NYSE American, NYSE ARCA, NASDAQ, Bats Global Market, and the Investors Exchange. By capturing the smallest companies, CRSP indexes encompass nearly 100 percent of the investable market.

Reconstitution occurs quarterly after the market close on the third Friday of March, June, September, and August. The transition period begins after the close of the Wednesday (first transition day) after the second Friday of March, June, September, and December, and ends (final transition day) after the close of the Tuesday after the third Friday of March, June, September, and December.

Founded in 1960 to develop the first definitive measurement of long-run market returns, The Center for Research in Security Prices (CRSP) has long been an integral part of the academic and commercial world of financial and economic research. Since its inception, CRSP has partnered with the investment industry to develop and maintain databases and market indexes that are widely used by academics and commercial practitioners.

The historical performance statistics of CRSP's market cap indexes are based upon 10 years of backtest data from January 1, 2001, through March 31, 2011. Subsequent backtesting was completed with June 29, 2001, as the start date in order to align with the value and growth style indexes. As is common industry practice, CRSP backtest data does not include float shares. Descriptive statistics are based upon current index constituents. Backtest results are not indicative of future performance.
